Re: Seminole County Charter Review

Dear Ms. Yurko:

Thank you for advising my office that the Seminole County Charter Review Commission is considering language that would name the Office of the State Attorney as the enforcement authority for proposed Ethics Charter Amendments. I appreciate the desire of the Commission to establish high standards of ethical conduct, but I do not want the voters of Seminole County to be misled to believe that my office will become the enforcing authority for these ordinances.

The jurisdiction of the State Attorney's Office is focused on the prosecution of state criminal statutes. Although there is some limited authority that allows the State Attorney to enforce criminal violations of county ordinances, that authority is not exclusive, is not mandated, and does not include ordinances that are enforced by civil or administrative penalties. In my opinion, any language contained in the Ethics Charter Amendments that names the Office of the State Attorney would create an impression to the public of enforcement that may not be true. Therefore, I ask that the Office of the State Attorney not be named in the proposed charter amendments.

Thank you again for bringing this matter to my attention.

Sincerely,

NORMAN R. WOLFINGER
STATE ATTORNEY
